Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-3, 5, 34, 35, 41, 6, 7-10, 36, 37, 42, 21, 22, 38, 39, 43, 40, 44, renumbered as 1-22 for allowance, are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art discloses connections between mobile devices including PDAs, laptops, and mobile phones via cables, and using sound to encode data, such as a modem, can be carried out between two devices using a null modem cable containing particular pin configurations. The present invention differs in that it claims apparatus for use in a first device to receive digital data non-wirelessly from a second device and to transmit digital data non-wirelessly to the second device, the apparatus comprising: a single jack configured to couple to either one of a headphone or a headset and to receive analog signals encoded with the digital data from the second device and to transmit analog signals encoded with digital data to the second device; a first conversion unit coupled to the single jack and configured to encode digital data into analog signals for transmission to the second device; and a second conversion unit coupled to the single jack and configured to recover the digital data from the analog signals received from the second device; wherein the first device is one of a mobile phone, a personal digital assistant or a smart phone and wherein the second device is one of a mobile phone, a personal digital assistant or a smart phone. When incorporating all the limitations of the claims, none of the prior art discloses the features as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue
